PA NEW OBSERVES

Due to renovation work going on at the Leslie hotel, meter heads have been removed from the parking meters located on Mercer street along side the hotel with no parking signs displayed.

At 1:45 p. m., Friday, cars arriving in from the west were wet with rain that had fallen in that section of the county, while in the downtown hardly a sign of rain was noticed with the sun breaking through.

One young lady had plenty of sympathizers Friday afternoon at the corner of South Mercer and South streets while firemen were extinguishing the blaze that threatened to destroy her small coupe. One youngster piped up, "How ya gonna get home, lady?"

Stopping off at the home of Mrs. Anna Sargeant, 131 Lawrence street, Friday afternoon Pa. New discovered one of the most gorgeous gladiolas that he has seen in many a year. The glad, which was approximately 18 inches high, was in full bloom.

Senate Takes Historic Step

Commits U. S. To Accept Compulsory Jurisdiction Of New U. N. International Justice Court

ISSUE FORMERLY REJECTED BY U. S.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—(INS)—The United States, which on three previous occasions rejected membership in the old league of nations world court, today was committed to accept the compulsory jurisdiction of the new United Nations court of international justice.

The historic step will formally be taken when President Truman deposits with the United Nations secretary general a declaration recognizing the court's jurisdiction on all international disputes except those involving a domestic issue.

The chief executive was empowered to take this step, which represents in part a surrender of American sovereignty to a world tribunal, by a 60 to 2 vote on the senate.

The negative votes were cast by Sens. Langer (R) N. D. and Shipstead (R) Minn., who previously voted against ratification of the United Nations charter.

The senate acted in two short days of debate, a far cry from the bitter battles which have wracked the chamber during the past 27 years over American adherence to the old world court.

August 14 Is Victory Day

BULLETIN
WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—(INS)—August 14 was proclaimed Victory Day in a Presidential proclamation today, commemorating the unconditional surrender of the Japanese empire on August 14, 1945.

President Truman, in his proclamation made public by the White House, declared that "although victorious in arms, we must not relax our determination or diminish our efforts for the attainment of the final goal—the establishment of a just and enduring peace."

The chief executive called upon the people of the United States to observe Victory Day "as a day of solemn commemoration of the devotion of the men and women by whose sacrifices victory was achieved, and as a day of prayer and of high resolve that the cause of justice, peace and international good will shall be advanced with undiminished and unremitting efforts."

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—President Truman took off from Washington early today, on a flight to Missouri where he will vote in his home state's congressional primary.

The president's special plane, the "Sacred Cow," lifted its wheels from the air transport command terminal at 8:05 a. m. EST, headed for Independence, Mo.

Mr. Truman will join the other voters of his small home town of Independence in their trek to the polls Tuesday morning.

The first lady also will vote with the president. It seemed likely that their daughter, Margaret, now of voting age would cast her first vote at the same time.

To Vote In Independence

The balloting place will be set up in the Memorial Hall at Independence, just a short walk from the president's old homestead.

Mr. Truman will be accompanied on the visit home by Mrs. Truman, his military aide, Maj. Gen. Harry Vaughan, presidential secretaries Matthew Connelly and Charles G. Ross and secretary of treasury John Snyder.

The president's plane will touch briefly at the St. Louis airport where Snyder will leave the party for a visit to his own home in St. Louis.

Mead Committee Takes Recess—Public Hearings May Resume In September

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—(INS)—The Mead committee left blank on a checkbook recess agenda today the time—if ever—when Rep. Andrew J. May (D-Ky.) will testify under oath on his role in the Garson "war profits" case.

Sen. Mead (D-N. Y.), committee chairman, announced that "except for an emergency" no public hearings would be held in Washington until after Sept. 1.

From its bulging file of cases under preliminary investigation, the committee gave first priority to its check-up on defective 42 mortar shells, first disclosed during public hearings on the Garson-May inquiry.

Of second importance for public hearings it ranked a double-barreled investigation to be handled by (Continued on Page Two)

Ex-G. I. Faction Wins Control After Battle

Long Entrenched Democratic Political Machine Overthrown At Athens, Tenn.

ATHENS, Tenn., Aug. 3.—(INS)—A long-entrenched McMinn county Democratic political machine was in the hands of an ex-G. I. faction today after a bloody Tennessee political conflict which left 20 persons wounded, three of them seriously.

A non-partisan interim government was in the saddle after a mass meeting of citizens yesterday in the county court house.

Fought Six-Hour Battle

Action of the mass meeting came after an estimated 200 former soldiers and independent party members fought a six-hour gun battle with deputies who converted the Athens city jail into a bricking battery.

The battle was allegedly to defeat the political aggregation of State Sen. Paul Cantrell.

The G. I. attack on the jail—using machine guns and demolition charges—brought a spirited return from the forces under the command of Sheriff Pat Mansfield. The deputies reportedly had seized ballot boxes from two of the city's three (Continued on Page Two)

Production, as always is the really sure-fire cure for inflation—and we're getting production at record and near record levels now," Porter, asserting that "our course (Continued on Page Two)

Worst Earthquake Since 1922 In Chile

SANTIAGO, Chile, Aug. 3.—(INS)—Residents of north-central Chile combed through scores of wrecked structures today for victims of the country's worst earthquake since 1922.

Officials said hundreds of persons were injured, although but one death has been ascribed definitely to the temblor.

Damage, from a "quake of major strength" and several minor earth tremors, extends from Santiago to Iquique—a distance of more than 450 miles.

The town of Copiapo, 420 miles north of the capital, was virtually wiped out.

"The director of the observatory at La Plata, Argentina, said seismograph readings led him to believe Chile's earthquake reached "ninth or tenth degree intensity."

"He said such intensity was comparable to quakes which caused 10,000 deaths in Chile in 1939 and destroyed San Juan, Argentina, in 1943."

Dutch Proposal At Peace Parley Is Turned Down

Chairmanship At Peace Conference Restricted To Big Five Nations

MOLOTOV GIVEN BYRNE'S SUPPORT

(BULLETIN)

PARIS, Aug. 3.—(INS)—Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov stood off an attempted small power revolt today and, with the support of the United States, obtained approval for the plan to rotate chairmanship of the peace conference among the Big Five.

The procedural committee voted 12 to 8 against a Dutch proposal to permit all 21 nations to elect a chairman. One nation abstained from the voting.

Then the committee voted unanimously to accept the recommendation of the council of foreign ministers for limitation of the gavel to the big four and China.

Byrnes Supports Molotov

The balloting was called after Secretary of State James Byrnes announced he would support Molotov, although Great Britain joined the small nations.

The procedural committee adjourned until 10 o'clock Monday morning after failing to reach a decision on the question of the two-thirds vote.

South Africa opened the debate with the declaration that insistence upon a two-thirds vote would reduce the effectiveness of the conference to absurdity.

The South African delegate said the two-thirds proviso would give any one of the big four a veto power by obtaining the support of only four small nations.

Therefore, he added, the conference may not be able to modify any of the provisions of the draft treaties drawn up by the big four foreign ministers.

Six Are Killed In Plane Crash

Army Air Forces B-25 Bomber Crashes Near Long Beach, Calif.

LONG BEACH, Calif., Aug. 3.—(INS)—An Army Air Forces B-25 bomber crashed today two and one-half miles southeast of the Long Beach municipal airport, killing six crew members and scattering wreckage for a quarter of a mile.

Eewitnesses to the crash said the bomber hit the ground once, bounced into the air and exploded on the second impact.

The plane was inbound from Albuquerque, N. M., and crashed north of the Seal Beach naval ammunition depot.

Names of personnel aboard were withheld pending notification of next of kin.

It was believed that the pilot lost his bearings in a murky overcast.

Prior to crashing, the plane circled the airfield once and, then, passing under a power line, attempted to land at the point of the crash.

gining of the 80th session, on January 3, 1947. But President Truman has served notice that he will summon a special session of the legislators should the OPA revival law fail to check inflation.

In the closing hours of the Congress, final action was taken on the important measure to provide for United States adherence to a world court by a Senate vote of 60 to 2. The dissenting votes were cast by Sens. Langer (R) N. D. and Shipstead (R) Minn., the two senators who voted against United States participation in the United Nations Organization.

Final Congressional action was also taken on an appropriation bill providing fund for GI terminal leave payments, OPA, and to buy automobiles for war service amputees.

Legislative Accomplishments

A recapitulation of legislative accomplishments of the 79th Congress showed that President Truman received less than half of the measures he had requested, and many of them in greatly modified form.

In the international field, Congress followed presidential recommendations and voted overwhelmingly for United States participation in the UN and in the Bretton Woods financial agreements. Both houses, likewise, adopted his proposal for a $2,750,000,000 loan to Great Britain.

In the domestic field, Congress refused to extend the OPA law in the form desired by the president, occasioning a presidential veto that eventuated in a different bill less objectionable to the White House.

Labor legislation loomed large in Congressional debate following the end of the war, but the president refused to accept the Case Anti-Strike bill proposed by labor.

Congress Retaliates

Congress retaliated by refusing to grant the president's request for "fact-finding legislation" and the Senate rejected Mr. Truman's emergency labor draft bill.

The legislature extended many war time laws, including the draft in modified form—the second war powers act, and a host of other so-called "emergency" measures.

The president was successful in his drive for a domestic atomic energy development law under civilian direction, but failed in his effort to obtain Congressional approval for the Army-Navy merger bill.

The 79th Congress appropriated almost one hundred billion dollars during its war and peacetime sessions, but rescinded sixty four billions previously appropriated for purely war spending.

After the end of the war, it reduced federal taxes by six billion dollars.

More than two million pounds of chicory was imported from Belgium in 1938.

J. L. Trumble of 839 Morton street, reported Pa. News this morning, another one of those oddities of nature that occur now and then. Mr. Trumble had a radish that was grown on top of another radish, with a three-inch neck between the two radishes, making the freak resemble a giraffe. The top radish is red, while the bottom one has a white top and a red bottom to it.

gining of the 80th session, on January 3, 1947. But President Truman has served notice that he will summon a special session of the legislators should the OPA revival law fail to check inflation.

In the closing hours of the Congress, final action was taken on the important measure to provide for United States adherence to a world court by a Senate vote of 60 to 2. The dissenting votes were cast by Sens. Langer (R) N. D. and Shipstead (R) Minn., the two senators who voted against United States participation in the United Nations Organization.

Final Congressional action was also taken on an appropriation bill providing fund for GI terminal leave payments, OPA, and to buy automobiles for war service amputees.

Legislative Accomplishments

A recapitulation of legislative accomplishments of the 79th Congress showed that President Truman received less than half of the measures he had requested, and many of them in greatly modified form.

In the international field, Congress followed presidential recommendations and voted overwhelmingly for United States participation in the UN and in the Bretton Woods financial agreements. Both houses, likewise, adopted his proposal for a $2,750,000,000 loan to Great Britain.

In the domestic field, Congress refused to extend the OPA law in the form desired by the president, occasioning a presidential veto that eventuated in a different bill less objectionable to the White House.

Labor legislation loomed large in Congressional debate following the end of the war, but the president refused to accept the Case Anti-Strike bill proposed by labor.

Congress Retaliates

Congress retaliated by refusing to grant the president's request for "fact-finding legislation" and the Senate rejected Mr. Truman's emergency labor draft bill.

The legislature extended many war time laws, including the draft in modified form—the second war powers act, and a host of other so-called "emergency" measures.

The president was successful in his drive for a domestic atomic energy development law under civilian direction, but failed in his effort to obtain Congressional approval for the Army-Navy merger bill.

The 79th Congress appropriated almost one hundred billion dollars during its war and peacetime sessions, but rescinded sixty four billions previously appropriated for purely war spending.

After the end of the war, it reduced federal taxes by six billion dollars.

More than two million pounds of chicory was imported from Belgium in 1938.

Atom Appointment Proves Tough Job

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—Once again President Truman is having trouble finding the right man for the right job. This time the jobs are super-super and the men named must be of the highest capacity and integrity, for they will control the greatest force in the world.

Originally, the President had hoped to be able to name the five members of the newly created Atomic Energy Commission before Congress adjourned. He had hoped to have them confirmed before the Senate departed for the long recess.

Now, unless Congress is delayed by a last-minute snarl, they will have to be interim appointments, subject to confirmation when the Senate returns. That is unfortunate because of the far-reaching importance of this commission. While apparently it was impossible, it would have been highly desirable if the new commission could have started off with the blessing of the Congress that created it.

The White House has sifted a great number of names coming from many sources. One of these considered early as a member of the commission, and perhaps even as chairman, was David Lilienthal of the Tennessee Valley Authority. Lilienthal was chairman of the State Department committee that drafted the report first proposing an international atomic development authority.

TVA Can't Spare Lilienthal
Soon, however, Lilienthal's name was eliminated.

The first reason was that it would be difficult or impossible to find anyone with Lilienthal's background, capacity and zeal to take the chairmanship of TVA. Another and somewhat more political reason also entered in.

One of Lilienthal's most vocal enemies is Senator Kenneth McKellar of Tennessee. It was not until McKellar would have opposed his confirmation as an atomic commissioner. The veteran Tennesseean, who is running for re-election at the age of 77, would have seemed at that opportunity like a trout to the fly.

His next step would have been to demand the right to name Lilienthal's successor on TVA. McKellar, whose record as a patronage seeker is unrivaled, has always taken the attitude that TVA is local patronage, or a war with postmaster'ships, and therefore to be dealt out to the deserving. Lilienthal has insisted on keeping TVA on a non-partisan, merit basis. No crystal-gazing is required to see what a McKellar man would do in the TVA job.

Political Angles Persist
These persistent political angles are to be found every time the problem of filling an important job comes up. This was one reason for the long delay in naming the full employment board.

The President originally asked Undersecretary of the Interior Oscar Chapman to be chairman of that board. Chapman believed a businessman should be one of the three members. But at the same time Senator Robert Wagner of New York was insisting that Lee Keyserling be given one of the three places. This compelled the President to recast his plan entirely. The chairmanship finally went to Edwin G. Nourse, a distinguished economist of the Brookings Institution, with Keyserling as one of the other two members.

One of the real dangers in appointing the atomic commissioner, particularly since the appointments will be interim, is that they may fall to eminently respectable staffed chairs. The name of one individual in that category is rumored for the chairmanship.

If this happens, it will be a tragedy. The jobs are too big for that, too vital. The eminent staffed chairs have an advantage, of course, in that they usually have private means to help ease out government salaries. They are long on cash and eager for honor.

Chairman's Salary $17,500
The new commission will be made up of a chairman and four members. The chairman's salary is $17,500; the members' $15,000. They will have their headquarters in Washington.

That seems an adequate salary. But by the time a man moves here, finds a house in still overcrowded Washington, and begins to maintain the official position which such an appointment calls for, $15,000 does not look so large. Income taxes take a generous slice. What is more, any man with the capacity and background for such a job would be likely to be in a much higher income bracket. The initial appointments are for two years.

Maybe a want ad would help the President. Wanted: A man with bigness of spirit and imagination; able to take part in controlling the stuff the universe is made of; apply to the White House.

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERICH BRANDEIS

A Tulsa, Okla., storekeeper ran the following advertisement in his local newspaper:

"Shrimp. We have it but it's too high. Regular 20-cent size now 89 cents. I wouldn't buy."

That ad may be clever, but it certainly isn't the solution of our economic problem.

If all of us followed that storekeeper's advice there wouldn't be any need for an OPA or lengthy debates in Congress or for presidential vetoes, but pretty soon there would be complete stagnation.

Strikes are always an economic evil. Both sides usually lose.

A buyer's strike is no better than a labor strike.

If you don't buy and the store doesn't sell, we may as well all close shop and go to a picnic—with an empty lunch basket.

That fellow in Tulsa would much rather sell his 20-cent shrimp for 89 cents. But how can he with all the crazy goings on in Washington, with nobody knowing what is going to happen tomorrow, with manufacturers and suppliers limping and hemmed in?

Regulations, rules, directives, fines and jail.

We wouldn't need any of these regulations if we had the will-power to regulate ourselves.

I have talked to many legitimate storekeepers.

I haven't found one yet who wants to charge higher prices than those compatible with a fair profit.

But with merchandise being driven into the black markets by stupid regulations so little of it finds its way into decent stores that high prices become necessary if there is to be any profit at all.

What is wrong?

When I get along here fine by ourselves but whenever we've had company, Larry's exhibitionism is a horror to behold. I've kept him in check by spanking him, or, since reading your column, setting him on a stool, off by himself.

Problem at School
"It works fine for that one time, but doesn't dampen his arrior in the least for another show another time. Now I find that at school, he is a very real problem to his teacher. He has an audience to perform for, and the older ones, I gather, consider him a three-ring circus. I learned just today of a spanking he got at school several days ago for being especially naughty. He wouldn't tell me what he had done, when I asked him, saying he forgot."

Don't know how to cope with the situation. He knows how I dislike his actions, that other people don't like them either, but children laugh and that's all he needs to start strutting his stuff. A self-addressed envelope is enclosed."

In answering this mother, I enclosed a selected list of books and (Continued on Page Seven)

LAKE BREEZE
Breeze from the land
Seems laden down
Under the blazing sun.
Wind from the soil
Seems sick with toil
And dust where the furrows run.

Breeze from the town
Seems laden down
With heat from the forge and mill
Wind from the street
Bears nothing sweet
To comfort the faint and ill.

Breeze from the lake,
Where white caps break,
Comes in to the fevered shore
As it never had been
In a place unclear,
With a blessing for rich and poor.

From Me To You
By MESEEALL

In a paper published in 1888 . . . called New Castle School Notes we read with interest about the trying times that were occurring then in getting enough children to stick at school. One item mentioned the fact that two New Castle teachers were offered fifty dollars per month if they would take a teaching job in another city.

Another little quib reads "One axe-grinding parent has talked of boycotting his church, because the pastor thereof ventured to pray for the schools" . . . but the item that took our eye and could very easily be used today as it was back in '88 . . . and we quote "A very large proportion of our girls show good sense in their street behavior. Occasionally, however, one may be seen displaying loud tones, or chewing gum or doing some of the many little things that the more thoughtful would not do." Note especially the gum chewing portion of that quote.

And this too was written sometime in 1888:
"If you speak the right word at the right time; if you are careful to leave people with a good impression; if you do not trespass upon the rights of others as well as yourself; if you do not put yourself unduly forward; if you do not forget the courtesies which belong to your position; you are quite sure to accomplish much in life, while others, who are battle to the strong. It is where you make people feel that you are unselfish and honorable and truthful and sincere. That is what society is looking for in men, and it is astonishing how much men are able to win self-respect, and success, and usefulness, who possess these qualities of good breeding. It is almost the turning point of success in practical life."

Jim Brandel . . . real estate broker . . . called this paper to our attention and as we read it over together we had a good chuckle here and there as names of folks we remember appeared. Some folks say those were the good old days . . . maybe so . . . but look at what they had to look forward to . . . two world wars, now what do we have to look forward to?

Great Game Of Politics

People Of U. S. Cool Off Quickly

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—"ONE trouble with this country," a wise old politician used to say in explaining the distressing frequency with which in our public life evil prevails over the right, "is that it is so big all the people never get mad about the same thing at the same time." There is considerable truth in that, but an even more accurate description of inherent weakness is the apparently incurable tendency of people, once aroused over grave and glaring abuses, to become inert and indifferent as soon as the immediate crisis has passed.

MORE than anything else this habit nullifies constructive action, blocks reform and permits the special interests and byways to exert a power in our politics utterly out of proportion to their size and wholly unrelated to merit. Nothing in the world save public inertia enables the demagogues to flourish and the sinister influences to make headway. No better illustration of this could be had than is afforded by the appalling labor crises through which we recently passed and the extraordinary failure of Congress to do anything about them.

LESS than two months ago, after a series of strikes in various cities and fields which crippled production and imposed great discomfort upon thousands, the nation found its entire economic life and the welfare of the whole people threatened by strikes in the coal and railroad industries. In the latter the situation became so critical that the President denouncing the strike leaders as "arrogant and greedy" appealed to Congress to give him power to draft workers into the Army in order to avert complete collapse of the nation's transportation system.

IN THE coal case, after the country had been brought to the verge of disaster a settlement was made by which practically every union demand was granted. These threats came so close to economic strangulation that the nation really was aroused. Practically all the people then got mad about the same thing at the same time. All over the country workers responded to the presidential words, reflecting popular indignation, the House promptly passed the legislation for which Mr. Truman asked. But the Senate held it off, the strikes were settled, the immediate crisis passed and almost at once the public cooled off. The people were mad at the start, the trouble was they did not stay mad.

QUICK to take advantage of the change in temperature, the sacred labor politicians and their legislative stooges rallied and went to work. The result is that the chance to correct the manifest abuses of existing labor laws and establish a firm national labor policy, which not only would be fair to the employer as well as to the unions but put the public interest first—where there is no denial they should be—has passed so far as this session is concerned. This Congress is about to adjourn without enacting any labor legislation at all.

THE CASE bill was killed by Mr. Truman's veto. The Ball-Burton-Hatch bill and the Byrd bills have been shelved. The only thing that got through at all is the Hobbs anti-racketeering bill, and all that does is again make applicable to unions certain criminal laws from which they had been exempted by an absurd Supreme Court decision. Thus, because the people cooled, the labor lobby has again triumphed and the labor professionals for another year at least will continue unchecked in a power, the danger of which has been amply demonstrated.

IT IS difficult to see how any detached citizen can view these facts with equanimity. The injustices and inequalities of the labor statutes are acknowledged by a large group of those to whom they give advantage. The situation cries for action. The country wants action. But instead of action this session winds up with complete inaction. Among recent labor developments worth noting have been—first, the fulsome eulogies of the late Sidney Hillman by newspapers and politicians who extravagantly praised him as a "labor statesman" ignoring altogether the fact that he created and directed one of the most ruthless, reckless and vicious political machines that ever existed, the chief function of which is to spread unprecedentedly defamatory publicity against public men it cannot control. And while there is now relative quiet on the labor front it is a deceptive quiet. Little secret is made that in many fields hundreds of strikes are scheduled for the next twelve months. Threats are again being voiced by the labor bosses through the late Mr. Hillman's PAC publicity instruments.

A SECOND development was the open avowal of a senator of the United States—Mr. Glenn Taylor of Idaho—that he is a member of a labor union which claims it has the right to strike against the Government. As a member of this union, Senator Taylor, naturally, holds this view. In fact, he insists it is "unconstitutional" to take away this "right." That the Hillman eulogies could get by without a protest and Senator Taylor's declaration stir hardly any criticism at all is a measure of the popular indifference which makes it so easy for things to go wrong in this country and so hard to correct them.

Permanent High Level For Farm Production?
Open Reports On Paris Peace Confab Promised
Army And Navy Expand Air Systems

(Special to Central Press)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—Agriculture department officials are predicting high levels of farm production in the United States for many years to come.

They say it is doubtful if production of staple farm commodities ever falls to pre-World War II levels. Bearing out their optimism is a recent report on the nation's corn and wheat crops this year.

The nation will eat well in the years ahead, the department says, despite the shipment of large amounts of grain supplies overseas.

Officials say that better farming methods, better equipment, improved use of fertilizer and advanced technical knowledge are among the factors that assure a high level of farm output in the future.

You can look forward to open reports on the Paris peace conference, both on agreements and disagreements, and the blame for failures will be fixed.

This is in accord with the strategy adopted by United States Secretary of State James Byrnes, who has finally found that this is his most powerful weapon for bringing about agreement. It is to be noted that at London, where the five-power council deadlocked to delay any progress on drafting the peace treaties, a strict policy of secrecy was maintained.

This was at the suggestion of Soviet Foreign Minister Vyacheslav Molotov, and Byrnes, in the hope of soothing Russia, complied strictly.

As time progressed, Byrnes apparently learned that Molotov was chagrined at rejecting any published project than those which were secret. Thus, Byrnes strategy flowered at the big four foreign ministers conference—and more progress was made than at previous sessions.

Now that President Truman has snuffed pre-campaign battle powder and served notice that he will stump for the Democratic party whenever it is needed this fall, observers point out that the administration has embarked upon one political pique that seems likely to succeed.

This is in the Missouri primaries where the president has pledged himself and Postmaster General Robert Hannegan to defeat Rep. Slaughter (D) in the race for re-nomination. Enos Axtel, a comparative unknown, is Mr. Truman's man.

Washington politics point out that the president and Hannegan and "Boss" Pendergast pretty well run the Missouri Democratic machine. They will probably be able to block the 40-year-old Slaughter on party strength alone, observers believe. However, a Republican might beat out Axtel in the final election.

Despite the elaborate plans being made by commercial airlines to handle post-war overseas traffic, both the army and navy are determined not only to hang onto, but to expand, their transoceanic air transport systems.

Rear Admiral J. W. Reeves, Jr., commander of Naval Air Transport

Service, has come up with a plan for the aerial ferrying of all naval personnel changing station or otherwise in duty status requiring long trips.

Reeves points out that when the time saving is considered, air transportation is a great deal cheaper than surface travel. He asserts, too, that the morale factor is highly important and believes that an adequate service of the kind he recommends will make for a more efficient navy.

The Air Transport Command and the navy are at odds at the moment over the handling of "routes of common interest" in the Pacific. They are competing for the "main line" run from San Francisco to the Orient via Honolulu, Johnston, Kwajalein and Guam. But they are united in their contention that commercial airlines are not capable of handling high priority military passengers as well as civilian travelers.

The Congress whenever two thirds of both Houses shall deem it necessary, shall propose amendments to this Constitution, or on the application of the legislatures of two thirds of the several states, shall call a convention for proposing amendments, which in either case, shall be valid to all intents and purposes, as part of this Constitution, when ratified by the legislatures of three fourths of the several states, or by conventions in three fourths thereof, as the one or the other mode of ratification may be proposed by the congress; provided that no amendment which may be made prior to the year one thousand eight hundred and eight shall in any manner affect the first and fourth clauses in the ninth section of the first article; and that no state, without its consent, shall be deprived of its equal suffrage in the senate.

The above article provides for the method of amending the Constitution—either by a convention of representatives of the citizens of the state or by the legislature itself.

ARTICLE VI
All debts, contracted and engagements entered into, before the adoption of this Constitution, shall be as valid against the United States under this Constitution as under the Confederation.

This Constitution, and the laws of the United States which shall be made in pursuance thereof, and all treaties made, or which shall be made, under the authority of the United States, shall be the supreme law of the land; and the judges in every state shall be bound thereby, any thing in the Constitution or laws of any states to the contrary notwithstanding.

The senators and representatives before mentioned, and the members of the several state legislatures, and all executive and judicial officers, both of the United States and of the several states, shall be bound by oath or affirmation to support this Constitution; but no religious test shall ever be required as a qualification to any office or public trust under the United States.

This article, besides confirming all the things that are laid down by the constitution, provided how the officers of the United States government, whether they be elected or appointed, shall be bound by their oaths of affirmation to support the Constitution; and also in the first paragraph binds the citizens of all (Continued on Page Seven)

They were concrete block structures. Repairs to buildings cost $20,105, Williams stated.

Sheriff Coen In Auto Accident In Armstrong Co.

Sheriff Frank Coen narrowly escaped death Friday afternoon when his car upset on the Worthington hill in Armstrong county and rolled over three times. Sheriff Coen is home, in bed, with a mass of bruises but it is thought none of them critical.

He had left here with a patient destined for the state hospital at Torrance. Rain had made the blacktop highway on the Worthington hill slippery and in an instant the car overturned. The patient was uninjured.

State police brought Sheriff Coen back home and County Commissioner Joseph F. Travers took the patient on to Torrance. The sheriff's car was wrecked.

Stray Dogs Roam In North Beaver

Norman Kuhn, constable of North Beaver township, reports a large number of stray, unlicensed dogs in the community. It is not known whether Kuhn says whether the dogs are dropped from cars by some one or if they are strays coming in from Ohio.

Since there is a quarantine on dogs in North Beaver, all strays that are unlicensed are shot if a search for the owner is unsuccessful.

All dogs found lately are quite normal Kuhn reported. There has been no sign of rabid dogs lately.

Although 25 or 30 cats are seen on the roads at night, the constable hasn't attempted to take any. There is no quarantine on cats in the township.

THE PARENT PROBLEM

pamphlets designed to help parents bring up their children, and my bulletin, "Jealousy."

Although some punishment of that chap will be necessary at times, your main problem is to move from punishment. Any other child of six who had never had a playmate other than a brother, three, could be expected to act before company and at school about as he does. No three-year-old can be a desirable sole playmate of a six-year-old.

Always his little brother has marveled at the exploits of his big brother. The schoolmates don't respect him, and he is teased and humiliated by his peers. He is supposed to be of approval. Before company, this lad wants to be sure he gets more attention than his little brother. He may help him if when there are guests he can help serve refreshments or take their wraps.

Please don't urge him to tell you when and why he has been punished at school. Let him save his face. Just let him know you are sorry he needed punishment.

Hard as it may be for you, find a way to get him with playmates of his age. Go with him to visit in a home with such and invite one at a time to your home, say for a week-end. See what appears at normal play he has to make up. Normal playmates alone can help him in this.

As this lad learns to do more things his playmates do for whole some fun, and grows more sure he is loved as much as his brother, he will show off less. In the meantime, try to be patient with this child, for when he annoys you most he probably feels most miserable.

The black widow is a venomous spider, belonging to a species of which the female kills and devours the male after mating. They are most prevalent throughout the west and while not necessarily fatal, deaths have occurred when bites were not treated promptly.

Honor Roll For State Convention Churches Given

Below is a list of the churches and Sunday schools that are on the honor roll for having sent in check for quota of delegates to the 84th convention of the Pennsylvania State Sabbath School Association which is to be held in the Cathedral and conveniently located churches October 8 to 11.

It was hoped that the quota of 1,000 delegates from Lawrence county would be reached by August 1. However, in order to give an opportunity for others to be on the list of those responding the time has been extended to August 15.

Every Lawrence county minister has received a letter giving the quota for his particular church and Sunday school and this gives every church and Sunday school in the county to be proportionately represented at this great gathering of Sunday school leaders, workers, and members from all over Pennsylvania.

The 100 per cent churches and Sunday schools to date are: New Castle district: First Baptist, Highland U. P. Epworth Methodist, Third U. P. First Methodist, First Presbyterian, Mahoningtown Presbyterian, First Congregational, Emmanuel Evangelical, Croton Methodist, Finnish Lutheran and Savannah Methodist; Wilmington district: East Brook U. P., New Wilmington Methodist, Shenango U. P. and Rich Hill Presbyterian; Pulaski district: New Bedford U. P., Mahoning U. P. and Harbor U. P.; Mt. Jackson district: Enon Valley Presbyterian and Bessemer Presbyterian; Ellwood district: Slippery Rock district: Princeton Lutheran and Park Gate Baptist; Slippery Rock district: Princeton Memorial Presbyterian, Mt. Hebron Presbyterian, Nesquehoning U. P., Greenwood Methodist and Rose Point Reformed Presbyterian; Plaingrove district: Harlansburg Presbyterian, Plaingrove Presbyterian and Plaingrove U. HE GAMBLER WITH FATE, HIS LIFE WAS HIS PAWN!

The truck cab was enveloped in flames, ahead was a quarter mile grade. If the driver stayed at the wheel there was a chance he could get the truck to the bottom and avert a traffic catastrophe. The chances were about even that he would lose his life doing it. He had to take the gamble with his life in a split second.

And Leroy Brickley, a Sharon driver took the gamble. Somehow he got that blazing truck down that grade, got it to the place where it couldn't endanger traffic, and then jumped. The catastrophe was averted, his life was saved, he won the long shot gamble.

Brickley would deny he is a hero, and we won't argue the point. But we do know he is indicative of the type of men driving motor trucks today. Men who put the safety of others above their own, men who can make decisions quickly, men it is an honor to claim as a part of the motor truck industry.

New Calvary Pastor To Open Ministry In This City Sunday

Rev. Howard Sartell Will Preach
First Sermon As Pastor Of Tabernacle Sunday

Rev. Howard Sartell, who has accepted the call of the Calvary Gospel Tabernacle, will occupy the pulpit of the First Presbyterian church Sunday morning, Aug. 4.

Rev. Sartell, who recently completed his duties as a Marine chaplain on the island of Okinawa, is a graduate of Wheaton college, Wheaton, Ill., and of Faith seminary in New Jersey, and came to the city from Uniondale, Pa.

The new minister, with his family, will be moving into the parsonage of the tabernacle on East Washington street, as soon as their goods arrive in the city. In the meantime, the family is residing in Grove City.

Rev. Robert Weber At First Christian

Rev. Robert F. Weber, son of Mrs. Clara Weber, New Wilmington, and former resident of this city, will be the supply minister at the 11 a. m. service in the First Christian church on the Public Square, Sunday morning.

Rev. Weber has chosen as his theme "My Father's Word."

Dr. Bennett, who is away on vacation, ordained the young minister on January 10, 1943 and immediately following, he became pastor of the "Church at the Cross Roads" at Perry, Ohio, near Painesville.

Rev. Weber is interested in rural church work and has dedicated his life to that task.

Black materials absorb heat and light, while white materials reflect them, and therefore white clothing is cooler than black. The difference, however, depends not only upon the color, but also upon the texture and type of material.

Rev. S. T. McKinney Will Preach Sunday

Rev. Samuel T. McKinney, of Port Worth, Tex., will occupy the pulpit of the First Presbyterian church Sunday morning, Aug. 4.

Rev. McKinney is a brother of the late Robert A. McKinney, of this city. He is well known here, as he has preached at the First church on several occasions. The service begins at 11 o'clock.

East New Castle Church Will Hear Candidate Sunday

Rev. Leland B. Stanton, of Orange City, N. J., will be present, Sunday at the Grace Bible church, formerly the Calvary Presbyterian church, at East New Castle, as a candidate for the pulpit of the church left vacant by the resignation of Rev. Robert E. McNeill, who likewise is candidating for a church, outside of the city.

Rev. Stanton, who is a graduate of the Moody Bible Institute, of Chicago, Ill., has been engaged in evangelistic work and comes with good recommendations. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Stanton.

The candidate will be preaching both morning and evening in the church. The morning service is set for 11 o'clock, while the evening meeting will be a union service of the Savannah Methodist and the Grace church, which is to begin at 8 o'clock. Special music will be a part of the latter service.

Harmony Baptists To See Special Film

Believed to be the first film of its kind, the showing of the "God of Creation" will be a feature of the 8 o'clock Saturday evening service of the Harmony Baptist church, Ellwood-New Castle road, according to announcement from the pastor, Rev. Earl E. Collins.

The picture was produced by Irwin A. Moon, S. D., of the Moody Bible Institute, who has also produced several other pictures, that have been shown in this area.

The opening section of the film, takes the audience on a trip to the stars, by means of solar photographs, with later portions of the picture, depicting beauties of natural science and type of material.

Four Navy Men End 35 Days Of Endurance Test

Volunteers Released From Steel Cubicle Where They Were Altitude Subjects

U. S. NAVAL AIR STATION,
PENSACOLA, Fla., Aug. 3.—(INS)—
Four Navy men who lived in a 10-foot square steel cubicle for the past 35 days Friday were back in normal roomier surroundings.

Their volunteered, endurance test was called "Operation Everest" by the Navy. It was an experiment to secure data on human physical reactions at high altitudes.

Lt. Cmdr. Charles S. Houston of the Navy medical corps said the quartet of "human guinea pigs" was subjected to atmospheric conditions equivalent to a 20,000-foot altitude without use of oxygen tanks. The test was terminated yesterday.

At one point they went "up" to 50,000 feet. "But up there," according to Dr. Houston, oxygen was administered.

The physician said his charges came through the test in fine condition.

Hospital apprentice Carlton Morris of Farmville, La., had this reaction to report of the simulated flight into the stratosphere:

"I've never felt so high up and been so near the ground."

In addition to Morris, who postured his wedding to participate in "Operation Everest", the quartet included Lt. (jg) Walter McNutt, Jefferson, Tex.; Phm. 2-c Horace Hurtel, Dallas, Ore., and hospital apprentice Carl Wilkins, Dorchester, Mass.

Lt. Cmdr. Houston said that living in the tiny decompression chamber for more than a month apparently had no ill effects on the volunteers. Even their dispositions were good after the test.

For relaxation in the steel vault they played acey-deucey, read magazines, watched miniature movies and exercised on a gymnasium bicycle.

Schools Go Back To More Vacations And Longer Terms

Although New Castle pupils were delighted with the early end of the spring term of school this year, the 1946-47 term will offer longer vacations now that the need for accelerating schedules has passed, according to an announcement from the office of school superintendent
Frank L. Burton.

School opens this fall on September 4, with a teachers meeting in the senior high school on the morning of September 3 at 10 o'clock.
Teachers will then meet with the principals of their own schools at 11 o'clock.

Vacations will include a day off for the midwestern convention on October 25; Armistice Day; four days off at Thanksgiving; twelve days at Christmas; nine days at Easter; and Memorial Day.

This schedule is like the pre-war schedules, before the vacations were cut shorter to allow eighteen-year-olds to finish school before entering service.

New Law Imposes Penalty On Fugitives Crossing State Line

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—(INS)—
President Truman signed legislation imposing fines up to $5,000 and five years' imprisonment for fugitives who cross a state line after escaping from a state institution or state law enforcement officer.

The existing law makes it a federal offense to travel from one state to another or abroad to escape prosecution for such offenses as murder, kidnaping and robbery, but does not cover escape from a state authority following arrest.

At that depth the pressure is ter-

It's pretty dark down there, too,

One of the nice things about sub-

We understand Picard plans to

Invisible Light Marvels Told By Oregon Chemist

Application Of This Discovery To Atomic Chemistry Outlined
By Fluorochemist

ABOARD USS PANAMINT, Enroute to San Francisco, Aug. 3.— (INS)—The many marvels of the application of invisible light to atomic chemistry and other fields of science were outlined Friday by Jack De Ment of Portland, Ore., consulting fluorochemist.

He told a forum of scientific and United Nations observers returning from the Bikini atom bomb tests that uranium, key mineral in the manufacture of the bomb, can be prospected with ultra-violet light.

De Ment said uranium ore reflects a bright green or yellow light under ultraviolet light if first sprayed with acetic acid. In addition, he said, secondary uranium minerals give off a "Christmas tree" glow without preliminary treatment.

Among the new horizons in the application of fluorochemistry, De Ment said, is the ultraviolet projection of movies in a fully lighted theater or room, with the spectators unconscious of the source of the pictures.

Another use is in communications, where signals would be invisible until a fluorescent screen was interposed.

Already proven in the fluorochemical field, said De Ment, is the ability to detect apparent death from actual death.

This involves the injection of fluorescent solutions and the application of ultraviolet light. With this method, living tissue can be detected from dead cells regardless of the lack of pulse and breath.

A permanent mirage may be seen at Dry lake, six miles west of Wilcox, Ariz. From the highway miles off a motorist imagines he can see a great body of "dry water" on a clear day.

City of New Castle Water Company

Republicans Of District Will Gather Monday

New Castle will be the nerve center of Western Pennsylvania Republican politics Monday, August 5, when a dinner and meeting will be held by the party in the Cathedral and a nine county conference will be held with State Chairman M. Harvey Taylor.

Late today General Chairman Frank W. Hill estimated the crowd that will attend the dinner at between 1000 and 1200. Arrangements for the program are complete and early Monday afternoon the visitors will begin gathering.

The nine-county conference will be held in the Castleton hotel in mid-afternoon. The dinner takes place in the Cathedral at 6:30. Mr. Hill will open the program and turn it over to the toastmaster, County Chairman Roger W. Rowland. The principal speaker will be the Republican candidate for governor, Attorney-General James H. Duff.

Others who will speak briefly are State Chairman Taylor, National Committeeman Mason Owlett, Secretary of Highways Ray Smock, and Congressman Louis E. Graham.

The invocation will be given by Rev. P. M. McCarter and the benediction by Rev. J. A. Fetzner. A musical interval will be provided by Florence Berg and Howard Price, radio personalities, and Billy Earl, local piano trickster, will play for group singing.

While the dinner centers around the county committee, each committee member will have with him or her, two young Republicans and in addition there will be hundreds of party members from all parts of the county.

More Federal Aid For State Relief Purposes

HARRISBURG, Aug. 3.—(INS)—The department of public assistance estimated today that Pennsylvania will receive an additional $500,000 monthly for relief purposes under a new congressional amendment to the social security act.

Secretary Robert P. Wray emphasized, however, that although the amendment provides for increased U. S. participation in aid to the blind, Pennsylvania will not benefit because the federal security administration does not recognize the state's blind pension program.

Under the new law, maximum federal participation in the aid to dependent children program will be boosted from $9 to $13.50 for the first child and from $6 to $9 for each additional youth. The change was expected to yield the state an additional $275,000 monthly.

The maximum federal contribution to the old-age assistance program will be increased from $20 to $25 monthly for each recipient, Wray said. In addition, the U. S. will pay 50 per cent of the cost of administering the program instead of an amount equal to five per cent of the federal contribution for grants.

Federal funds for the old-age program will be boosted approximately $265,000 a month of which $40,000 will be additional contributions toward administrative costs, he added.

Wray emphasized that the new measure does not automatically boost monthly grants to relief recipients. Assistance allowances are fixed by the department with the approval of the public assistance board.

Major Leonard Wiehdt, of Portland, Ore., streaked to a crash-landing in his disabled, ultra-fast fighter plane before a crowd of 10,000 spectators after thrilling them with a demonstration of high-speed maneuvers.

Major Wiehdt walked away from the crashed and burning plane after hitting the field in a "wheel-up" position, overshooting the runway and skidding into the brush at the edge of the field. He suffered a head laceration and an injured shoulder.

A crash-crew quickly extinguished flames in the burning plane before it was completely destroyed. Major Wiehdt's skill in avoiding milling spectators brought quick praise from Colonel Frank H. Mears in command of the air show celebrating the air forces' 39th birthday.

Col. Mears said the cause of the crash-up could not be determined until an investigating board made its report.

Following New Castle soldiers have received their honorable discharges from the Fort George G. Meade separation center: S-Sgt. William R. Walton, R. D. 1; Sgt. Staley A. Routman, 635 East Washington street; Pvt. Ralph H. Depinto, 419 Hawthorne street; T-4 William R. Cochran, 906 East Washington street; T-5 Joseph J. Manozzi, 1309 Delaware avenue; Sgt. Louis J. Ferrara, 1201 South Mill street.

Mrs. Harry Smith, Rebecca street, has received word from her son, T-5 Robert D. Smith of Okeana, Japan, that he spent an enjoyable week-end with his brother-in-law, T-5 Walter S. Zeigler of Osaka, Japan.

Rare Operation On Heart Saves American Soldier

SEOUL, Aug. 3.—(INS)—The U. S. Twenty-Fourth Corps disclosed today details of a rare heart operation which was credited with saving the life of an American soldier, T-5 Harold Geisner, 19, of Nisland, S. D.

It was explained that Geisner suffered a near-fatal wound when a Korean sneak thief entered his barracks and stabbed him.

The knife point penetrated the heart sac and muscle. Doctors said that bleeding inflated the heart sac producing what might have been a fatal pressure on the organ.

Capt. John Culler, 30, of Frederick, Md., commanding officer of the 377th hospital, took the case although he had never performed such a delicate heart operation.

Culler called in Capt. Gustave B. Shunke, 38, of Inglewood, Calif., who is surgery chief at the 29th General hospital near Seoul.

With Capt. Earl Yeakel, 38, of Oklahoma City as special anesthesiologist, the two surgeons took two hours to explore the heart region, slash the sac and drain off accumulated blood. Then they stitched the heart muscle and outer skin.

The announcement of the operation said that in most heart cases, puncture results in sudden death.

Captain Culler's wife and child reside at 308 East Lake avenue, Baltimore, Md.

Hot Springs Mayor Denies Charge Of Breach Of Promise

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Aug. 3.—(INS)—Mayor Leo P. McLaughlin of Hot Springs today sought a trial by jury in the event that the $200,000 breach of promise suit filed against him by Miss Lucille Griffiths is called for trial in Federal court.

Miss Griffiths' complaint charged that McLaughlin entered into a contract of marriage with her, and that he was to fulfill that contract on or before October 1, 1944.

He said he was fired during a hot Garfield county political campaign. At the time, McLaughlin termed it "purely blackmail and politics."

His answer filed yesterday denied every material allegation except as to the residence of the plaintiff.

'Bums' Show At Laurel Playground
"Bums" at the Laurel avenue playground Friday afternoon were enjoying their ragged appearance. Most of them were dressed in their big brothers or their fathers' clothes, with patches sewed all over them.

First prize winner was Mary Margaret Grossman, who came in a suit of mourning clothes complete with a high silk hat. Bobby Burkes got the second award for his make-up, which was as good as a professional bum. The third prize candy bar had to be divided between Norma Jean Harlan and Chester Shaffer, and honorable mention was given to Joan Carikito for her gypsy's costume.

Judges for this event were David Glenn, David Todd, Delmar French and Bill Boyd. Miss Joan Cox is the supervisor in charge of the playground and the show.

Escaped Convict Recaptured; Faces Thirty-Year Term

RARITAN, N. J., Aug. 3.—(INS)—Augustus B. Doak, 29-year-old escaped convict who was recaptured in New Jersey's greatest manhunt since the Lindbergh case, faced a possible 30-year jail sentence today after pleading guilty to kidnapping.

Doak, who had broken out of Michigan State prison, pleaded guilty to four other charges and not guilty to two more.

Doak, who had kidnapped a New Jersey state trooper who had questioned him Thursday, was lodged in jail in lieu of $30,000 bail.

At the arraignment Recorder Paul G. Fleischer directed that pleas of not guilty be entered in behalf of his bride, Mrs. Constance Blondell Doak.

She was charged with kidnapping, carrying concealed weapons, assault with intent to kill, grand larceny, receiving stolen goods and bringing stolen property into the state.

Doak, who pleaded not guilty to assault with intent to kill and robbery, boasted that no jail could hold him.

Police said that his wife, who first told them she was 16, is shown to be at least 19 and possibly 22 by a license for a former marriage.

Ice cream was invented in Italy in the 14th century.

Bread Price Is One Cent Higher

Price Of Flour And Most Bakery Products Is Also Increased By O.P.A.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—(INS)—American consumers today began paying one cent more for the average-sized loaf of bread and higher prices for flour, breakfast cereals, corn foods, and most bakery products.

O.P.A. granted the price increases to reflect rising grain prices, now exempted from control at least until August 21 by the new price control act. The agency insisted that its action was necessary to assure continued adequate flour supplies.

Increases Made
In addition to the bread price boost, the following increases were authorized:

Flour, about one cent a pound; rolls, one cent a dozen; all major breakfast cereals except corn flakes and puffed wheat and rice, one to three cents a package; macaroni, two cents per eight-ounce box; noodles, one cent per small package; and corn meal and hominy grits, one to two cents a pound. Shortly after the bread and flour price boosts were announced, the new price decontrol board revealed that grains would be the first item on its agenda at public hearings to determine whether controls on major food commodities should be restored.

O.P.A. pointed out that the bread, flour and bakery products increases were temporary pending the decontrol board's action on grain controls.

The board must decide on or before August 20 whether livestock, grain, dairy products and cottonseed and soybeans should remain free of price control. If it fails to act by that date, these commodities automatically go back under ceilings on August 21.

No Epidemic Of Polio In Forces Occupying Japan

TOKYO, Aug. 3.—(INS)—U. S. army medical authorities today quieted fears that a possible infantile paralysis epidemic may break out among occupation personnel.

Officers pointed out that there are only six men suffering from the disease at the Tokyo army hospital and said the patients are from widely separated parts of the Orient.

The possibility of an epidemic was brought up when three army officers, stricken with polio, were removed from the Transport Marine Hospital and hospitalized in Tokyo. The officers are Capt. Roy N. House, Mansfield, Ill., and Lieutenants Henry I. Meyers, Chicago, and Donald Borth, Staten Island, N. Y.

The three other Tokyo patients are Corporal Norman Roberts, Denham, Tenn., stricken in Tokyo; Lieut. Robert W. Peoples, 904 Forest Rd., Atlanta, Ga., stricken in Shanghai; and Pte. John Breneman, of York, Pa., stricken in Korea.

Roberts and Peoples were said to be making rapid progress under the Kenny system of treatment.

It was said that only one man from the occupation force in Tokyo has died of infantile paralysis. He was identified as James G. Williams, of Susquehanna, Pa.

Big-Power Veto To Be Discussed

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—(INS)—The big-power veto in security council decisions was scheduled today for discussion in the United Nations General Assembly through requests of two member states for its inclusion in the agenda.

Cuba became the second petitioning state by asking the assembly to convene a general conference to amend the UN charter so as to eliminate the veto entirely.

Earlier Australia requested an assembly discussion of the veto in order to formulate policy outlining the circumstances under which it should be employed.

The assembly is scheduled to convene September 23.

Paul Keely, a director of the American Truckers Association, will be the speaker at the noon luncheon meeting of New Castle Kiwanis club in The Castleton Wednesday noon. His subject will be "Truck Transportation." Mr. Keely has been secured as the speaker through the interest of Kiwanian Robert London.

HUGHES HAS FRIEND IN LINDA

DAILY TINY LINDA KLIPSTEIN prays for the recovery of her friend, Howard Hughes, who has been in a Hollywood hospital since the crash of his experimental plane. Linda first met the millionaire flyer, when her dog, Duke, was struck by a car last October. Hughes rushed the pet to a veterinarian, and left money for its care. The dog died, and the child's friend brought her "Ruff," with whom she's shown above in her Hollywood home. (International Soundphoto)

A career you can't afford to miss!

Student nurses study many fascinating subjects. And they work interesting periods on the wards.

A nurse's education costs you little—in some schools, you get it free. It offers you a future in one of the most respected and best paid professions a woman can enter.

From the day you first go on the wards as a student nurse, you begin a career that will enrich your entire life.

From that very first day, you work with highly skilled professional men and women. You increase your knowledge and understanding of people. You learn a great profession to which you can return at any time. And always whether you choose a career, marriage—or both—your nursing education will be of the utmost value to you.

NURSING EDUCATION NOT EXPENSIVE

Because student nurses work while they learn, the cost of a nursing education is very low if they choose a school in one of the fine modern hospitals—or in some schools it may even be free. Student nurses are given room, board, uniforms and laundry. And when nursing education is obtained in a 4-year college, the cost is less than the expense of a general college course offering no professional training!

WHAT A STUDENT NURSE DOES

A student nurse divides her time between the classroom and the wards, spending more time in actual nursing as she becomes more proficient. She lives in a dormitory, just as she would at college, and gets time off every week, as well as occasional week ends and summer vacations.

Nursing is hard work it's true, but a good school of nursing will take such good care of you that your health should be better when you graduate than when you entered.

NURSING IS WELL-PAID

Nursing is one of the best paid fields a woman can enter. Compare the average net earnings of a nurse with those of a teacher, or secretary (see box at right). Compare her average expenses with room and board paid, relatively inexpensive.

Inexperienced Male Workers Is Job Problem

HARRISBURG, Aug. 3.—(INS)—The U. S. employment service for Pennsylvania reported today that an analysis of applications filed by 360,000 job hunters disclosed the major problem was "placement of young inexperienced male workers."

Unnecessary rigidity of present employment specifications, dislocation of workers stranded in war-industry communities, wartime curtailment of technical and professional schools and present immobility of workers because of housing shortages were blamed by the agency.

The slow development of job training programs and the unattractiveness of current wages compared to war-time pay also were cited.

This maladjustment of labor supply and demand calls for: (1) relaxation of hiring specifications (especially in respect to age and experience requirements); (2) expanation of training programs—apprenticeship, in-plant and in schools; and (3) use of alternate and related skills," the U. S. E. S. explained.

The veteran unemployment problem, it added, was "over the peak." More veterans were returning to work than were being discharged from the services. More than 60-

000 veterans have been found unemployed since January 1. Riddles were known to the ancient Egyptians.

COMBINING FUNDS TO PURCHASE PLANE

CHESTER, Pa., Aug. 3.—(INS)—

Airplanes cost too much for the average Chester flying enthusiast to have one personally, but a dozen of the community's embryo pilots are going to "hit the heavens" just the same.

They've formed a "stick and rudder" club and are buying—for the use of the pilots—one two-seated cabin model plane.

A jackpot was formed out of $250 put up by each enthusiast. In addition, they'll pay $6 monthly dues to be used for insurance on the plane, hanger rent, and upkeep.

Plane Rushing Polio Stricken Officer To U. S.

HONOLULU, Aug. 3.—(INS)—An army plane bearing Lieut. Henry H. Harris, Jr., an infantile paralysis victim, back to the United States in an iron lung was scheduled to leave Honolulu late tonight on the last leg of the journey.

Col. O. K. Neiss and Lieut. Col. A. MacGruder, army physicians at Honolulu who met the plane, said Harris "stood the trip very well."

Nurse Lieut. Dorothy L. Burton, of Pittsburgh, Pa., who accompanied Harris all the way from Guam in the ATC C-54 plane, said Harris stood the trip so well he was taken out of the iron lung between Johnston Island and Honolulu, a distance of some 450 miles.

Harris arrived at Hickam Field last night in the plane and iron lung which he had been rushed to Kwajalein where he had been removed from another plane because the high altitude made him ill.

He is scheduled to depart from the Hickam Field at 10 p. m. for the Fairfield-Suisun airbase, north of San Francisco.

Harris was stricken in the Philippines July 8.

Many Articles Up For Sale As Military Surplus

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 3.—(INS)—Are you interested in buying a barrage balloon? Maybe a cargo glider? These dandy items will go on sale at the Tobyhanna military reservation beginning August 15, according to the War Assets Administration.

You can buy a cargo glider, designed to carry 15 airborne troops, for $75, condition not guaranteed.

The gliders, made of wood, steel and fabric, are 48 feet long and 12 feet high. The only hitch is that the gliders are still packed in overseas crates and must be assembled.

The assets administration recommends a glider as a temporary shelter for home-hungry veterans.

Just what one could do with a barrage balloon is hard to imagine. The army, however, claims the fabric could be used for tents or covers.

British Troops Rushed To Iraq

NEW DELHI, Aug. 3.—(INS)—British troops in India were being transferred today to Iraq in order to protect British and Indian interests in nearby Iraq.

In London, the India office said British forces would enter Iraq. They will be stationed at Basra, in Iraq.

British relations with the Tehran administration have suffered from recent strike at the Anglo-Iranian Oil company.

British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin charged that the Tehran Leftist Tudeh party was responsible for disturbances, and various Iranian sources replied that the British were guilty of arming virtually autonomous tribes in Iran.

PEACHES BROWNING SEEKS ALIMONY SUM

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 3.—(INS)—The former "Peaches" Browning today sought $3,500 in unpaid alimony plus seven per cent interest—from her third husband, Joseph S. Civielli.

"Peaches," who last April married Ralph N. Willson, of Columbus, O., filed suit in superior court in San Francisco in an effort to recover the unpaid alimony.

She charges Civielli, a San Francisco merchandising manager, had agreed to a $31,300 property settlement at the time of their divorce in Reno last February.

She said he also agreed to pay her $500 alimony monthly, but that she had not received any of the payments.

'No Tax' Campaign By Moslem League

NEW DELHI, Aug. 3.—(INS)—Hakim Alavi, a member of the Moslem League Council, said today the league will soon launch a "no tax" campaign.

Members of the council have recommended that the league take forceful action against the British to achieve independence for India and a separate state for Moslems.

Reluctant Boys Finishing Y.M.C.A. Camp Week Sunday

Young members of the Y. M. C. A. summer camp will conclude their week at camp Sunday, and look back on seven days crammed with excitement and fun.

Monday the fifth week campers of the association will go to camp, with some of the Margaret Henry home boys making up the group.

During the sixth and final week of the camping season the site will be occupied by the Shenango street members.

During the past week the boys enjoyed fishing, swimming, boating, games of softball and volleyball and archery. Thursday they were entertained by a story of the "Yellow Claw," narrated by H. T. MacNicholas, former camp director. Following the tale the campers enjoyed a marshmallow toast.

Sunday the parents of the campers will be invited to attend the worship service being held at the camp. Following devotions the boys will break camp and motor back to the city.

Negro Slayer Held For Court

Butler Allegedly Confesses Killing Society Matron, Raping And Wounding Daughter

MINEOLA, N. Y., Aug. 3.—(INS)—A quiet-spoken Negro butler was held without bail for the grand jury today after allegedly confessing to the murder of a Long Island society matron and raping and shooting her ex-wife daughter.

Ward Beecher Caraway, 23, waived examination before Judge Albert C. Moore during his arraignment on a first degree murder charge in the death of Mrs. Marjory Church Logan, 52.

Earlier he had been identified in Nassau county hospital by Marjory Jeanne Logan, 26, as her attacker.

The fatally "stare-eyed" Negro was said to have told police he was dishonorably discharged from the army after a courtmartial for theft.

Caraway, formerly of Charlotte, N. C., had been employed in a Long Island home only a half mile from the Logan house.

The break in the case came when Caraway stood at the bedside of the wounded girl and heard her declare, "There is no question about it. He is the man."

Caraway then led police to underbrush 200 yards from his employer's home and helped recover two parts of the gun he allegedly used against Mrs. Logan and her daughter.

As special presidential envoy, Marshall is currently attempting to arrange a peace settlement between China's warring government and Communist factions.

Communist "headquarters" at Yenan reported that two U. S. army liaison officers today inspected fragments of American-made bombs and bullets reportedly found in the Communist capital after yesterday's incident.

Man Sought In Death Of Girl May Also Be Dead

ONSET, Mass., Aug. 3.—(INS)—A theory that the missing "Frank" who accompanied Ruth McGurk, 25, pretty, Auburn-haired Cambridge clerk, from Colonial Casino dance hall last Saturday night may have been murdered with her by a gang of ruffians was advanced today by investigators.

This theory was brought to light as police began draining a cranberry bog reservoir where Ruth's battered body was found Thursday. A search of the bog area was pushed by police, Boy Scouts and volunteers.

"There's a bare possibility that this tough hunt might uncover Frank's body. We have not ruled out the chance that both Ruth and Frank were victims of a gang."

Authorities were checking a report that five suspicious looking youths were seen speeding in a dark sedan through Onset on the night of the crime. They also were spotted in the vicinity of the dance hall shortly after dusk.

Pittsburgh Vet Suicide Victim

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 3.—(INS)—Police reported that Ernest Fedela, 24-year-old war veteran, was found dead outside his Pittsburgh home today with a bullet wound in his head.

Found near the body was a 22 calibre rifle and a note which read: "Dear Mom and Pop. Am sorry this has to happen and sorry it has to be this way."

"P. S. My time is now up. Time 12:30."

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Fedela, said their son had been discharged from the army in January after three years' service.

Twenty-Four Shoe Plants Are Closed

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 3.—(INS)—Twenty-four plants of the International Shoe Co. were closed today because of picketing at the firm's St. Louis plants.

Twenty plants in Missouri, including 11 in St. Louis, three in Illinois, and one in Kentucky are closed. The picketing by members of the CIO United Retail, Wholesale and Department Store Employees Union resulted from a wage dispute involving 24 workers at one of the St. Louis plants.

The company estimated that 17,000 workers are idle because of the shutdowns.

BREAKS WINDOW

When booze is in wits are out is an old saying and it was applicable to a case last night when a drunk was said by two pedestrians to have struck and broke the window of the Anastasia barber shop, East Washington street. Police were notified but the inebriate had made his escape before they had time to catch the window-smasher.

MINNEAPOLIS IS BATTLING POLIO

Children Under 15 Barred From All Public Gatherings As More
Deaths Occur

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 3.—(INS)—Minneapolis children under 15 were barred from all public gatherings today by official health edicts as six more deaths from infantile paralysis were reported in the twin cities of Minneapolis and St. Paul.

Dr. F. J. Hill, Minneapolis health commissioner, exercised emergency authority last night in restricting the activity of the children in an effort to check the spread of the dread disease.

Under his order, children were barred from all theaters, Sunday schools and church services, youth centers, amusement parks and halls until further notice.

The latest deaths brought to 25 the number of persons to die in Minneapolis and St. Paul since Jan. 1 of infantile paralysis.

More than 500 cases of polio have been reported in Minnesota in 1946, including 138 cases and 26 deaths among non-residents.

Over 95 per cent of the deaths and cases have occurred since July 1.

RYEGRASS MAKES GOOD COVER CROP IN GARDEN

A seeding of ryegrass anytime up to early September, usually at the last cultivation, will supply the home garden with needed organic matter, improve the physical condition of the soil, build up its fertility, give it greater water-holding capacity, and prevent erosion.

Cover crops can be grown every year without interfering with the efficient and maximum production of vegetables. In addition to building up the soil, it prevents the leaching of soluble plant food. Gardens also look better during idle winter months if covered with green growth.

Extension demonstrations have shown ryegrass to be the cheapest, surest and most satisfactory cover crop. It stays green all winter and makes most of its growth in the fall and early spring when the garden is not in use.

Ryegrass fills the soil with fibrous roots—the best form of organic matter. This has been found to be the equivalent of a light application of manure. The ryegrass is preferred over clover as a cover crop since it does not get too tall before plowing or spading in the spring.

It may be broadcast from mid-July to early September at the rate of one pound per 1,000 square feet. The seeding may be made either before the last cultivation of the late-harvested crops, or after the removal of early-harvested crops. The seed should be worked in lightly where possible, but this is not considered essential.

Young, described as an army veteran, whose wife died recently and whose two children are in Detroit, occupied rooms in the same building.

The victims were discovered by another roomer, Miss Betty Cornish, who found the dead woman and the three children who were unconscious and in dying condition. The children, Donald, seven; Florence, three, and Joan, two, were rushed to a local hospital where they were given blood plasma in an attempt to save their lives.

The suspect appeared in police court this morning and was remanded to Aug. 10.
